FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Capitol Symphonic Youth Orchestras (TCSYO) present: "Musical Journey" concert - Sunday, March 15, 2015

FAIRFAX, VIRGINIA: Top student musicians from the Washington, DC area transport the audience to old and new worlds of wonder as The Capitol Symphonic Youth Orchestras (TCSYO) present "Musical Journey" on Sunday, March 15, 2015 at 2:00 p.m. Led by Artistic Music Director and Principal Conductor Dr. Cheri Collins students will perform a wide range of works, including Mars and Jupiter from The Planets by Holst, Tchaikovsky's Capriccio Italien Op. 45., The Abduction from the Seraglio by Mozart and Mozetich's Dance to Earth.

"The exponential success of The Capitol Symphonic Youth Orchestras stems from passion and originality" writes Northern Virginia magazine.

The concert takes place at George Mason University Center for the Arts at 4373 Mason Pond Drive in Fairfax. Ticket prices are $15 for adults, $10 for seniors and $5 for students. Come see why TCSYO has raised the bar for youth orchestras, and is fast becoming a leader in music education in the Washington, DC area.

TCSYO is a Fairfax County based non-profit organization. Its mission is to provide a creative environment where young musicians from Virginia, Maryland and the District come together to rehearse and perform. Now in its fourth year, TCSYO offers young musicians an opportunity to take their skills to a higher level with the Symphonic and Chamber orchestras for the more advanced and the new Prelude orchestra for elementary-aged musicians.

The renowned Dr. Collins, a specialist in training young musicians, brings energy, passion and international experience to TCSYO. With her magnetic personality and inspirational approach, she brings out the best in her students. "Our youth orchestras are amazing," says Dr. Collins. "These talented and committed students take great works and make them come alive."
